

Connectivity remains key to strengthening the ASEAN Community

As challenges arise, ASEAN is moving forward to achieve a more connected region, strengthen our resilience and bring opportunities to our people

So what is our plan in 2020?

Better infrastructure for better development

We aim to bring the Initial Rolling Priority Pipeline of ASEAN Infrastructure Projects into reality.

We strive to ensure that our current and future infrastructure continue to bring value to the people of ASEAN with the Framework for Improving ASEAN Infrastructure Productivity

We will also build sustainable and liveable cities by implementing the ASEAN Sustainable Urbanisation Strategy (ASUS)

Bringing more value through Seamless Logistics

To help the region strengthen the supply chain ecosystem, ASEAN is developing a Database on Trade Routes and Framework for Enhancing Supply Chain Efficiency.

Efficient supply chains promote competitiveness and strengthen economic resilience, improving overall connectivity in ASEAN

Connecting more people across ASEAN

Skills mobility is the foundation for better connectivity

To achieve skills mobility in the region, ASEAN is strengthening Technical and Vocational Education Training (TVET) mobility programmes in priority sectors.

ASEAN is conducting a Study on Enhancing Intra-ASEAN University Student Mobility to foster people-to-people exchanges in the region.

In 2020, ASEAN will foster stronger integration within and beyond the region.

There is more work to be done
to build a more cohesive and responsive ASEAN.
And we must do it together.

credit: ASEAN Secretariat

More info: connectivity.asean.org

This infographic is supported by

