

Monitoring, Review and Evaluation of the Master Plan on ASEAN Connectivity (MPAC) 2025

MPAC 2025 is unlocking more opportunities to create stronger network of people and infrastructure that will improve the way we live, work and travel.

Monitoring, Review and Evaluation (MRE) ensures that MPAC 2025 is on track to achieve its goals.

Why is MRE important?

Promote greater transparency and accountability in the implementation of MPAC 2025

Assist relevant stakeholders to assess progress and achievement in implementing MPAC 2025

Complement and synergise the three ASEAN Community Blueprints and sectoral work plans

The MRE guides the implementation of MPAC 2025 by stakeholders such as:

ASEAN Connectivity Coordinating Committee (ACCC)

The MPAC 2025 Lead Implementing Bodies (LIBs)

Relevant ASEAN Sectoral Bodies

Relevant agencies in ASEAN Member States, including National Coordinators (NCs) and National Focal Points (NFPs)

ASEAN Secretariat

The MPAC 2025 MRE is a continuous process with regular reporting:

Regular data collection

Annual progress review

Mid-term review (2020)

End-of-term evaluation (2025)

How does MRE assess MPAC 2025 initiatives?

(Illustration on Initiative 15: Support Higher Education Exchange Across AMS)

Objective:

Increase the number of intra-ASEAN international university students

Each output is tracked to ensure the achievement of objective

Output 2

Develop a database with flows of ASEAN university students

Data can help inform the visa programme required

Output 1

Study on the feasibility of a regional ASEAN student pass (visas)

Visas can encourage greater mobility

Visas can support students to intern while studying

Alumni can strengthen ASEAN university

Output 4

Develop alumni and student ambassador programme

Internship can strengthen students' experience and encourage them to be active alumni

Output 3

Develop internship programme

Output 5

Study on ASEAN single-branded scholarship

Scholarship is an enabler to mobility

MRE gathers data and tracks progress to ensure that activities are carried out in a timely manner to meet strategic objectives

For more information on MPAC 2025: <https://connectivity.asean.org>

Check out #ASEANConnectivity on

This infographic is supported by

